

- Algorithm:
 - Use parallel lines to divide a rectangle representing an item into smaller rectangles representing the item's children
 - Each child is allocated a size proportional to some property (additional encoding by color)
 - At each level of the hierarchy switch the orientation of the lines (vertical vs. horizontal)

